McCUTCHEON AND HILL WINNERS

ROCKEFELLER TO DINE WITH BOYS' STATERS

Secretary of State John D. Rockefeller, pictured left, who is Democratic candidate for governor, will be at Boys' State today.

He will arrive late this afternoon and is to remain for dinner, at which he will make a brief talk.

He will be accompanied by two aides.

Gov. Arch A. Moore, who is seeking re-election on the Republican ticket, is to come here Thursday.

Their visits will highlight the guest program, which includes several state officials and industrial executives.

The First of the dignitaries was State Superintendent of Schools Daniel B. Taylor.

Monday's special guests were State treasurer John Kelly, who spoke briefly at night, and West Virginia University's head football coach, Bobby Bowden, who was the rousing assembly speaker.

Monongalia County Prosecuting Attorney Joseph Laurita, a candidate for attorney general, will be a luncheon guest today.

No outside speaker is scheduled for tonight's assembly, which is reserved for introduction of Boys' State nominees just prior to the general election set for 9 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Wednesday luncheon guests will include West Virginia Attorney General Chauncey Rowning and Agriculture Commissioner Douglas.

Supreme Court Judge Fred H. Caplan will administer oaths of office during inaugural ceremonies at 4:30 Wednesday.

The Wednesday night assembly will be addressed by Jay Barton II, provost of education at WVU.

The Thursday night assembly speaker will be Robert L. Rine, Weirton Steel's public relations director.

Dr. William L. Larcamp, Union Carbide director of research, is to speak Friday night.

Among many other special guests coming this week are State Auditor Donzil L. Miner, Legislative Auditor Encil Bailey and Assistant Purchasing Director Charlie McNutt, with Mrs. McNutt.

Serving on headquarters staff are two state senators, E. Hans McCourt, president, and Walter Neeley, who are serving as legislative advisors, as is Ode W. Smith, doorkeeper of the House of Delegates.

A VIS AND ROMANO TOSS COIN TO SETTLE TIE ELECTION TONIGHT

Steve Hill of Wheeling heads the Federalist ballot and Daniel T. McCutcheon of Parkersburg is the Nationalist nominee in the gubernatorial race at 1972 Mountaineer Boys' State.

General election balloting will take place from 9 to 10 o'clock tonight.

Hill of Panhandle County defeated 13 other candidates for the Federalist nomination with a wide margin between his vote of 81 and the next highest candidate, Norman Trowbridge, 32.

Other Federalists seeking gubernatorial nomination were John Burnell Higginbotham, 18; Thomas W. Whitehouse, 11; Mark D. Moreland and Harold Smith I each 9; Sam Arose and Junior Taylor, each 7; Charles Miesner and Anthony Pizatella, each 3; David Boothe and David A. Stover, each 2, and Byron M. Mills and David Bilotta, each 1.

The Nationalist winner, McCutcheon of Calhoun County led a field of nine candidates with a long lead, getting 64 votes. Next highest was Eddie Parker, 35, followed by Andrew Warner, 22; Doug Lovejoy, 17; Gordon D. Jones, 15; Paul Hermeling, 11; John Taylor, 9; Rick Lunaford, 6, and Lewis E. Smith, 5.

SECRETARY OF STATE

In the secretary of state's races, Mike Watts of St. Albans won a wide victory over nine other candidates on the Federalist ticket and Mike Pearman of Huntington eased in with a closer margin over seven other Nationalist contenders.

In Federalist balloting, Watts of Kanawha County polled 45; Phil McGinnis, 26; J. Neil Parsons, 24; Greg Campbell, 22; Roger Lee Full, 18; Jim Richmond, 17; Danny Groseclose, 11; John Haller and Arnold Green Jr., each 10, and Roger L. Williams, 4.

In Nationalist voting, Pearman of Monroe County drew 44; Tim Humphreys, 38; David Campbell, 28; Gage Lightner, 22; Marvin Frank Meddings, 18; David Allen McKinney, 15; Greg Harr, 10, and Michael Hyre, 7.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

Federalists chose Sam Merandi of Clarksburg and Nationalists picked William S. Winfrey II of Princeton for Attorney general candidates.

Nationalists actually elected Rod Dickerson with 55 votes, but he was disqualified by bar examination results, as were John Zegeer, who polled 27

COACH URGES RETURN TO GOD, MORE LOVE

Mountaineer Boys' State citizens, already at fever pitch from the afternoon's primary campaigning preceding primary elections, were further aroused by the Monday night assembly speaker's challenge to them to "turn it around" and stop the fall of the United States as "the greatest nation in the world."

Bobby Bowden, head football coach at West Virginia University, established immediate rapport with the 371 Boys' Staters by telling one joke after another--mostly on himself--and promising to beat Penn State--possibly next year.

"We haven't beaten Penn State since you were born," he told Boys' Staters, most of whom are age 17. "I promised the alumni that it would not be another 17 years--16 maybe, but not 17--and I feel that next year we're going to get nose to nose!"

The coach told of a football player who had made an early yardage gain and then switched tactics, without success. Asked by the player later what he had done wrong, Coach Bowden had told him, "You forgot how you got there."

Using this analogy as he switched to serious vein, Coach Bowden said Americans today are "forgetting how we got here. This nation was founded by godly men."

Bowden reminded Boys' Staters of the historical fact that "Nations, people and empires fall if they disobey God--they are punished--" and that there are signs that the United States--the greatest of all nations--is at the brink of beginning its downgrade.

He urged "this new generation" to "turn it around" by honoring God and serving their fellow men. "Figure God in, and figure your fellow man in. We need to love each other more!"

Bowden received a standing ovation at the beginning and a thunderous applause at the end of his challenging talk.

Prior to Bowden's enthusiastically-received speech, State Treasurer John Kelly spoke briefly on the state's balanced budget system, which prohibits a deficit budget.

He told the boys that $300 million could be spent by West Virginia this year and an equal amount is expected from revenue.

Kelly also spoke of the Interstate and palachian highways now being built in the Mountain State. He envisions that these new roads will end regionalism in the state.

"This will open up West Virginia so we can work together as West Virginians!" he declared.
