FAREWELL ADDRESS
GOVERNOR COY ALDEN FLOWERS
JUNE 13, 1990

Governor elect, Limer, Mr. Stine, staff members, distinguished guests, and my fellow citizens of Mountaineer Boys' State. I am proud to stand before you today as the 52nd Governor of Mountaineer Boys' State. However, my administration has come to an end, and I must say good-bye.

As we part on Friday, many of us will see one another for the last time. But no matter how high up the corporate ladder some of us may climb, or how many cases some of us future lawyers may win, or even how many degrees some of us scholars may have compiled, we will all share a bond of strength, determination, and good will in the brotherhood of Mountaineer Boys' State. Some of you I will see here in the years to come because I will never say goodbye to the Boys' State Program.

I would like to express my deepest and most sincere thanks to two individuals I hold in the highest regard, Mark Zackwieja and Brent Walker. Through their tutelage and extreme patience, I was given the opportunity to become Governor. I will always value their friendship. Thank You!!!

Boys' State -- It sounds like the name of the camp we've been at the past few days. When I say or hear Boys' State, I can actually feel an entire gammet of emotions. The confusion of the first day, the nervousness on election night, the excitement of winning, the satisfaction of a job well-done, the pride from representing West Virginia.

Each year the Boy's State program takes in approximately 400 unique individuals and develops our most important resources -- the minds and leadership abilities of West Virginia's youth. Here we are united; citizens, counselors and staff, all with one common mission -- the betterment of our nation and state.

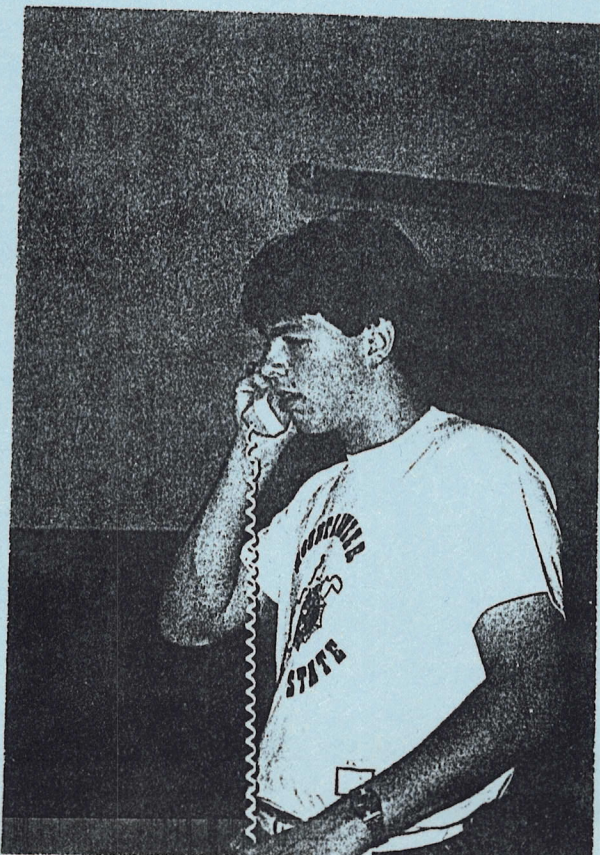

One of the candidates this week jokingly said in the primary that he had a dream. And in the general election he again humorously told us that his dream had grown into a vision. Citizens, we all have our dreams, our hopes, and our desires for our futures. Someway, somehow, those dreams need to be given a great deal of attention so that they can materialize into visions, visions of happiness and greatness. The American Legion Boys' State has given you that attention to start the process of molding your dreams into realities.

Gentlemen: The time has come for me to pass the Boys' State torch on to my successor, Governor Elect, Limer -- with pride and dignity. Hold the flame high for it will illuminate all of our futures.

THANK YOU ALL AND GOD BLESS!!!

Coy Alden Flowers,

Coy Alden Flowers

PHONE CALL TO PARENTS AFTER BEING
ELECTED GOVERNOR OF BOYS' STATE 1989

GOVERNOR JOSEPH LIMER
INAUGURAL ADDRESS
Wednesday, June 13, 1990

Mr. Stine, Governor Coy Flowers, staff members, men of Mountaineer Boys' State, and guests of the American Legion Mountaineer Boys' State.

It is both a privilege and honor to stand before you as your newly elected governor of the 53rd Boys' State. Coming into Boys' State on Sunday gave me feelings. Feelings of nervousness, excitement, happiness, and a fear of uncertainty. Nevertheless, as I spent more time here, I felt more comfortable - losing that fear of uncertainty. And as I later won my primary and recently the general election for governor, I realized that Boys' State wasn't just a regular camp with regular people, but a special place where lasting friendships are formed. I speak to you now, not only as a governor, but as a friend. People, there is an emphasis here on law, patriotism, and governmental procedure, but what I wish to emphasize to you - just as much - is the friend you just met, the pal you've been hanging around with for the past few days or the homeboy you're chillin' with. This, my friends, is what makes Boys' State so special.

As governor, I have already been given several responsibilities which have caused me to mature and to respect what our past governor has done.

Governor Flowers, you have shown me what it takes to accept the challenge of being a governor. You have passed the proverbial "torch" but most importantly, you have been a friend to many of the citizens here. When people look back on how your term was run, they will talk of a well-run government or the spirit you have shown in a successful Boys' State, but what I will remember is what you have taught me. Not only on how to run a Boys' State but you've taught me kindness and that, to truly be successful, one must have a love for what he is doing. You have shown that love and for that I give great thanks.

At this time, I would like to introduce to you two people who have inspired me and taught me the ideals to become successful in life. They have shown me love and have taught me to strive to the top. My parents, Danny and Leonie Limer.

I would also at this time like to thank the Federalist Party who have been a great help when I was down and needed a pick up. Special thanks to the source behind our party - Mr. Trent, who made me practice my speech over and over till I got it right and to Steve Redd, who made me feel confident and good about myself. Also, in the Federalist Party, I would like to thank those who were behind me, who screamed my name, and were wild and crazy and showed true Federalist spirit. Thank you.

I would like to thank the committees who helped me this morning with the budget and appointments and congratulations to the state elected officers who have been a pleasure to work with thus far. Finally, to the Webster County cabin, I would like to say thanks to those who put up with me while I kept you up half of the night.

Now, to the Citizens of Boys' State.

My promise of effort and time to make Boys' State great is still intact. I intend to uphold the pledge which many of our past governors have done. They have set the foundation for me to follow and I will follow it with pride and dignity. The term I have will be a term which past governors can be proud of and future governors will look for as an example.

In closing, I would like to thank all of you for your support and I hope that we will all try to make this Boys' State into one of the best ever.

Thank you and God bless you all!

Joseph P. Limer

The mock government set up is essential for learning about the political structure of the nation and state. BY EMILY COX AND HENRY RATHVON

Each clue below has two parts. The answer to Part A is a six-letter word; the answer to Part B is a shorter word whose letters are all contained within the A word, in order but not necessarily consecutively.

For each pair of clues, first fill in the six-letter A word in the appropriately numbered row of the grid. Then, in that same row, shade in the letters of the B answer. When you are done, the unshaded letters in the diagram will spell out a phrase appropriate to the shape that they form.
